

INTRODUCING MANTELLIGENCE: A REVOLUTIONARY NEW APP FOR MEN

After months of research and hard work, the Mantelligence team has put together a truly one of a kind men's app.

The team took the excitement of a video game, infused it with all the knowledge that men need in their daily lives, and as a result, have created an exciting and unprecedented new app for men.

THE APP:

As men mature, they're expected to know certain things that aren't printed in textbooks.

They should know the difference between a socket and a crescent wrench, that the penalty for a false start is 5 yards and that storing beer upright helps to reduce oxidation.

Mantelligence is a revolutionary new type of game that's designed to teach men these bullet points of manliness.

THE QUESTIONS:

The app has over 3,000 unique men's general knowledge and men's trivia questions that span topics like sports, tools, beer, cars, bbq, etc. Players can expect questions like:

- What gives beer its bitter taste?
- What's a carburetor?
- Who was John Dillinger?
- What's the difference between a Phillips and a flat head screwdriver?
- Which military branch are the Rangers part of?
- How many presidents have been assassinated?

THE GAME:

We've turned this concept of man-telligence into an incredibly fun and engaging game app.

Opening the Mantelligence app, players are transported to a fictitious and dangerous land where their evil archnemsis, Dr. Ivan Evilsworth, has kidnapped their girlfriend and has taken her to his castle in the mountains.

Players must use their manly intelligence to fight through treacherous terrain, battle fierce bosses and bandits, earn treasure and stars, and, ultimately, rescue their girlfriend from Dr. Evilsworth's castle.

Outside the game's main storyline we've added high scores (so players can challenge their friend's Mantelligence), 5 in-game powerups, 30 achievements and a survival mode to keep players pushing the bounds of their manly intelligence.

MORE INFORMATION:

The app will be available for download on Sunday, January 18th, 2015. The best way to see more of the app is through pre-release, beta access. With beta access, you will be able to enjoy the game directly on your personal smartphone. To get beta access to Mantelligence, or for any other inquiries, please contact Mantelligence's founder Kyle Boureston at 916-429-5628 or by email at kyle@mantelligence.com.
